DETAILED ACTION

The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

Claims 1-4, 9, 10, and 12 stand rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Asamoto (US patent no. 3,945,676). Asamoto discloses a clamp apparatus having all the claimed features of applicant's invention as illustrated below.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

Claim 13 stands rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Asamoto'676 in view of Wood III et al (US patent no. 4,934,511). Asamoto disclosed all the claimed features of applicant's invention except for the pad portions are of tubular shape. To provide pad portions of tubular shape are old and well-known in the clamping art. Wood teaches a clamp having tubular member pad portions (109, figure 8) connected to the pivotal arms (107, figure 8) of the clamp. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to have modify the clamp of Asamoto such that the pad portion are of tubular shape as taught by Wood. Such modification would have involved a mere substitution of one well-known pad portion for another which is well within the ambit of one of ordinary skill in the art.

Claims 5-8 and 11 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 11/14/2006 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant argues that Asamoto does not show the pad portions move away from the normal plane, from the closed positions to the open positions, at least the second pad portion move away from the medial plane. Examiner does not disagree with applicant's assessment of how the pad portion of Asamoto move, however, applicant's claim language does not recite what is argued. Claim 1 recites “whereat said pad portions are located beyond the seat portion (as indicated above of the main body member, on opposite sides of and in spaced relation to the medial plane and in spaced, substantially equidistant relation to the normal plane, and respective open positions whereat the first pad portion is disposed, relative to its respective closed position , in a direction away from the normal plane, and the second pad portion is disposed, relative to its respective closed position, in a direction away from both the medial plane and the normal plane”.

Asamoto's pad portions (201 and 301) is always disposed in a direction away from the normal plane, meaning the pad portions (201 and 301) does not pivot to a point that is along the plane. When the device is opened, both pad portions (201 and 301) are away from the medial plane define by member A. Applicant's claim does not recite how the pads move toward or away from particular plane but rather where it is disposed in the open position relative to closed position. Such recitation is met by Asamoto.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
